HASSLE FREE SOURCING WITH MARC

MORE AND MORE RETAILERS ATTEMPT TO SOURCE DIRECT FROM THE FAR EAST, YET MORE OFTEN THAN NOT, THEY RETURN TO US. WHY?

At MARC, we work very hard to remove the hassle for you. Unfortunately, buyers only realise this after they have had their fingers burnt, having lost time and money trying to source direct. We have years of experience and have our own dedicated offices in the Far East – we don't outsource to third parties.

This has two clear advantages for you, the buyer:

1. You know who you are dealing with. We regularly meet buyers at our UK offices, where you can put a face to a name and have the reassurance that you are dealing with an established organisation.
2. You do not have to waste vast amounts of time and resources attempting to carry out processes that our own staff in the Far East do on a regular basis. Their role includes:

- Locating suitable factories
- Carrying out back ground checks on them.
- Ensuring suppliers are reliable and won't go bust.
- Regular and random Quality Control checks.
- Pre-shipment checks.
- Ensuring paperwork is correct and in place prior to shipping.

MARC does, and that's why buyers use us time and time again – if you're still unsure, we're only a phone call away!

WE'RE RECRUITING...

At MARC we have worked harder than ever before to deliver the best possible service to both new and existing clients. Our practice of always putting quality first has helped us weather the economic storm, where many others have sunk.

As a result, we are urgently seeking candidates to join our expanding sales team. The role is exciting, challenging, varied, and certainly rewarding for the right individuals. Ideally, we are seeking people who already have a background in sales or purchasing.

If you fancy a change of scenery, or want to see what the industry is like from the other side of the desk, please call Bruce Goldin on 01227 459999, or e-mail bruce@marcltd.com – you won't regret it! All correspondence will be treated in the strictest of confidence.
